Cookies & Privacy Policy

What is a cookie?

A cookies is simply a regular text file that contains a small amount of text and is stored on your computer or other internet enabled devices, such as a smartphone or tablet, in the device's Browser software's cache or storage folder. The file (or cookie) is created by a script residing on the website you are visiting.

Why are sites now warning about cookie use?

The European Union, several years ago, legislated a law that required websites to disclose the use of cookies and obtain a User's consent to the use of cookie technology. While the law is very vague, requests for cookie consent recently gained in popularity because Google is now requesting it's Users comply with the law. Many millions of websites around the world use Google services such as AdSense and Google Analytics, which use cookies to display advertisements or gather statistics.

How does MATSA Textiles use cookies?

Cookies help to make your online experience with MATSA Textiles effortless and enjoyable. We use cookies to better tailor our site to your needs, by, for example, displaying prices in your local currency or text in your preferred language. We also use cookies to :

- store your selected products and substantially increase shopping speeds;
- protect your security when you're logged into your account.

Which third party cookies are used by MATSA Textiles?

To provide a safer and more informative shopping experience, and give us a better understanding of our clientele's needs, we also use the following third party services who set their own cookies for their own purposes:

- McAfee Antivirus, for protecting and monitoring our site for viruses;
- Reevoov Product Reviews, for providing independent customers reviews;
- Google Analytics, for analyzing visits to our site.

Can I still order without Cookies?

Our shopping cart does not support cookieless shopping. By disabling cookies, you will no longer be able to shop with MATSA Textiles.

How long do cookies stay on my computer?

There are two types of cookies:

Session cookies: these cookies are created whilst you're visiting a website and destroyed when you close your browser. These types of cookies will not permanently reside on your hard drive, and are often used for security purposes in protected areas.

Persistent cookies: these cookies have an expiration date set (by the website) to sometime in the future. It could be days or years. These types of cookies are usually used to store your preferences, so the next time you visit the site displays content relevant to you. The cookies are then stored on your computer until :

1. The expiration date lapses at which time they will be automatically deleted;
2. The Browser Software's cookie cache is full at which time older cookies are deleted;
3. You manually clear or deleted selected cookies via your Browser software's control panel.

How do I switch off Cookies?

Cookies can be switched off by changing your Browser software's settings. Websites have no control of your Browser software's settings. Please refer to your Browser software's instructions to learn more about how to modify your Browser settings. Please also be aware that by disabling cookies, you will no longer be able to shop on the MATSA Textiles Websites.

Any changes to our cookie policy will be posted here. We reserve the right to vary our Cookie Policy from time to time and such changes shall become effective as soon as they are posted. Your continued use of the Website constitutes your agreement to all such changes.
